Edward Unger Contesses to the Murder of August Bohle.

New York, January 30th .- Edward Unger, the murderer of August Bohle, whose body was found last week in a trunk shipped to Baltimore, has made a full confession of the killing. Unger was arrested on Thursday last, and after being a short time locked in his cell he was brought before Inspector Byrnes. In the room was a fore Inspector Byrnes. In the room was a table on which had been placed the hammer with which Bohle was killed, the knife and saw used to cut up the body, and the rubber cloth in which the body was wrapped after the killing. The chair upon which Unger seated himself was so arranged that he could see little else in the

"You are trying to hang me." The trunk with the body arrived from Baltimore yesterday, and the body was sent to the terday, and the body was sent to the Morgue. That night Byrnes went to Unger's cell and asked him how he felt. "Pretty well," said he, huskily. Then the Inspector unlocked the cell door and delighted the cell door and delighte "Pretty well," said he, huskily. Then the Inspector unlocked the cell door and detective Hickey called Unger into the corridor, where the lights were turned low. The prisoner stepped forth, but did not see the Inspector until the latter called him by held Bohle's dead body. Unger staggered at the sight, and tottered towards his cell. Byrnes then took from the trunk a piece of the murdered man's coat, which had been sed to wrap the body, and, holding it up before the prisoner's eyes, asked him where the rest of Bohle's coat was. Unger shud-dered at the sight of the blood-stiffened

He sat down upon it, and removing his hands glanced about him. Suddenly, and with a startled groan, he sprang to his feet, asking if he could change his seat, and taking a proffered chair. The sofa on which he had been seated was the one found in Unger's room after his arrest. Unger's face became ghastly pale, and when assisted to his cell he was almost in a fainting condition. Inspector Evrnes then told ng condition. Inspector Byrnes then told Unger that he would be near at hand when he was ready to talk, and when the Inspector returned from supper Unger had asked to see him. Again Unger was brought to Byrnes' room, where all the bloody tokens confronted him. "I want to talk the whole truth shout this huminess." to tell the whole truth about this business. he said to the Chief. He then told this story, which was taken in writing: THE MURDERER'S CONFESSION. "I live at No. 22 Ridge street. I have known August Bohle since November 1886. I first met him at my saloon, No. 24 Eldridge street, where he called in answer to an advertisement, which I had out in the Staats Zeitung, for a partner. We could not agree upon terms, and ī subsequently gave up the business at that number. I went to live at No. 22 Ridge street. A short time afterwards August came to live with me, the arrangement being that he was to pay me half rent, which was $7 50 *INDUSTRIA" KEY WEST CIGARS per month, and one-third of the household expenses. On the night of January 20, office. 1887, after supper, my son Edward left the house, leaving Bohle and myself in the rooms. We remained talk-ing and reading until about 9:30. Bohle was a very powerful man, and was swearing about his hard luck. He called me a d—d——. I told him I was no d—d——, and put my hand up to shove him away. He then struck me on the neck with his fist, and knocked me down. I sprang to my feet and attempted but knocked down the pistol. Cornish to strike him with the poker, which I had was captured and taken to Springfield, the in my hand. Bohlegrabbed the poker from my hand, and at the same time he seized a of 75 men entered the jail and secured the

I two miles north of the town, and lynched. picked up the hammer from a chest under the bed. He made another lunge at me with the knife, and I warded it off, receiv-ing a slight cut in the hand. I then struck him with the hammer. He staggered, and I followed him up and struck him again with the hammer, the hammer sinking into his skull as far as the handle. He staggered, and fell back on the sofa dead. This occurred about 10 o'clock P. M. Expecting my son home every mo and to avoid my son seeing what had happened, I took the body from the sofa and put it on the floor close to the wall. I then took Bohle's sleeping cot and placed it on it side before him and leaning it against the wall, covering the ends with some clothes. My son soon came and we went to bed to gether in the bedroom. 'Where's August?' he asked. 'He's gone out,' said I. On Friday, January 21st, as soon as my boy had gone to his work, I went out, bought some rubber, laid the body on it and cut i up to fit Boble's trunk, in which I placed the pieces, except the head, which will print a ten-line advertisement in One only one-fifth of a cent a line for 1,000 Circulation! of the Alyarado Beet Sugar Works-Engineer Injured.

[S. F. Chronicle, January 30th.] Yesterday morning, at 2:30 o'clock, a terrific explosion occurred at the works of the Standard Sugar Refinery at Alvarado, Alameda county, completely demolishing the boiler-house and wrecking the surrounding buildings. The steam for the refinery is supplied by seven fifty-inch Buckeye tubu-lar boilers, fifteen feet long, set in three pairs and one singly.

At the commencement of the year's run they had been overhauled and tested by expert James Hamilton, of the Union Iron Works. It was the left boiler of the middle pair which exploded, damaging the other six, as they cannot be used without extensive repairs.

The factory had just finished grinding the last beets at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and would have completed all work by Monday next. The refinery is still full of semi-refined juice and sugar, which it will be impossible to save.

The scene of the disaster is one of wreck and ruin. Where a house 50 by 80 feet once stood, is now but a pile of kindling

At the time of the explosion the fireman, Gabriel Dennis, was alone in the boiler-room. He states that he was carrying the usual amount of steam—sixty-five pounds. The water was foaming badly, making it hard to tell just how much there was in the boilers, but he thinks there were two gauges. He was standing near the ex-ploded boiler, when he suddenly telt himself lifted in the air and thrown on his face to the ground. Feeding Stock for Growth and Fat. The Philadelphia Record has the follow-ng upon this subject: Simply feeding an animal without some definite object in view is to waste the food or else deprive the animal of something it may require unless the farmer knows the quality of the food given and the nutritive value of the ingredients of which it is com-posed. So important is a knowledge of the proper mode of feeding that it is often possible to produce a more perfect animal from a grade than from a thoroughbred, and Darwin expresses the opinion that the quality of the food influences variation in animals, and that when improvement is attempted by intigings broading the result in tempted by judicious breeding the result is largely influenced by the mode and periods of feeding, as also by the quality and kinds of food used.

A normal condition cannot be sustained in an animal except by a mixed diet. No single article of food used for domestic animals can be regarded as complete or containing the proper portions of the necessary elements of growth and warmth. Certain foods, rich in nitrogen, are required for producing flesh. These foods are known as "flesh-formers," and are derived from the glutin of grains, the legumen of clover and from the different forms of nitrogen in all plants used as food, being transformed supply the natural waste of the muscles and cartilages, the surplus being imparted to the products of the animal, as casein in milk, or albumen in eggs from birds.

A proper division and classification of the foods enables the farmer to appropriate the elements particularly adapted for the accomplishment of the production of flesh, milk, butter or fat, for while the organic matter abounding in nitrogen is more suitable for flesh-forming, that portion free from nitrogen, known as carbo-hydrates, contains starch, sugar and fatty oils, in order to supply the fatty matter, while the earthy phosphates repair and renew the

SACRAMENTO, January 29, 1887.
The House was called to order at 11 a. M. Speaker Jordan in the chair and forty-nine nembers answering to their names. A few mo ments later there were but twenty-nine in their seats, eleven having wended their way to "the well," and the others discussing a financial point with the scalpers in the Sergeant-at-Arms' room. One of the scalpers was overheard saying: "Getting rich be damned! It's true I'm making some $250 a week, but then look at the chances I'm taking on you fellows."

Wilcox moved a reconsideration of the vote by which constitutional amendment No. 1 was lost on Friday. The motion was carried. It was then made a special order for a week from next Tuesday.

VITICULTUR & L CONVENTION.

The San Francisco District Meeting to b Held To-morrow. An address has been issued, calling Convention of those interested in the wine industry in the San Francisco Viticultural District, by the Commissioner, Charles A. Wetmore. Action is proposed on matters of serious concern, which are fully set forth in the call, as follows: The San Francisco Viticultural District is composed of the counties of San Fran-cisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Alameda, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito. The law requires that Conventions, at least once a year, shall be called by the Commissioner for each district, to be presided over by the Master's report will show the view he

In practice, however, it has been found generally impractical to hold so many inlependent Conventions and our Commis has therefore merged in one State Convention and one District Convention the main annual work of that kind. Emer-Convention of those practically interested in viticulture in this district, including not only the vine-growers, but also the wine-makers and wine-dealers, to be held in the parlors of the Occidental Hotel, on Tueslay, February 1st, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the special purpose of considering pending State and national legislation affecting our interests A cordial invitation is extended to all members of the State Viticultural Commission to co-operate in this Convention, and to all vine-growers, wine-makers and wine dealers in their respective districts. As the time is short no preparation will be made for any exhibits, full opportunity for which will be given at a later d All interested in our industry are hereby warned that a determined effort is being made to prevent not only the passage o national laws to suppress vile spurious compounds, but also to secure laws of special advantage to adulterators Great opposition through interested par-ties and their dupes has been made to our measures pending in Congress, and a bill has been introduced under their apparent direction in our State Legislature, which is undoubtedly intended to place our entire trade at the mercy of unprincipled adulter-

Two prominent attorneys of the State have been either employed or beguiled into advocacy of a measure which they declare it to be their intention to railroad through the Legislature, which, if enacted into a law, would be the most fatal blow yet struck at our integrity and prosperity. Under the bill proposed by them, without counsel with the practical viticulturists of the State, wholesale fraud and adulturation under the protection of the seal of the State of California can be practiced; not only this, but the legitimate industry of wine-making may be seriously curtailed by the act of our own State. It is impossible to give extended notice of this Convention, owing to the urgency of the occasion: but I trust that, for the credit of this district, such a prompt response will be given that future conspira cies of this kind may not be so readily at tempted.

The practical and honest producers of this State must decide whether they desire their interests to remain at the mercy of amateur and ignorant farmers and political adventurers, or whether they will give their confidence to those who have their cause most at heart.

Gillette, of Eureka.

J. W. Turner, a former partner of ex-At-torney-General Jo Hamilton, was employed by the Board of Supervisors, and has charge of all these cases, and is conducting the rosecution along with District Attorney Bartlett. The entire day was consumed i examining jurors as to their qualifications and only six thus far have been secured. Hon. Geo. A. Knight, of San Francisco has recently been engaged to assist the prosecution, and is expected here to-mor-row night. A stubborn and bitter fight is anticipated, as the conviction of Kunz has omewhat dampened the sanguine expectations of the defense and on account of high standing of counsel engaged. At the close of the proceedings to-day, a motion was made by Mr. Turner that the six jurors already obtained be placed in the charge of the Sheriff. The Court made the desired order. APROPOS OF FEBRUARY 14th.

An Eastern manufacturer has just sent us our stock of Valentines.

Those who make selections now will get the benefit of the fullest assortments and all the choicest designs.

A conspicuous feature of this season's Valentines is an almost entire absence of the old style embossed chromo pictures.

Instead are heavy rough-finished and rough-edged papers, with hand lettering in gilt; also, landscapes and floral designs sketched in water colors.

A majority of the Valentines are mounted as easels, plaques or banners, and can be used as home decorations, thus eventually serving a useful as well as a sentimental end.

In the fine novelties are half-moon shapes, with tropical scenes, 85 cents to $1 25. "Rome's Ladder," an original conceit, in silk and plush, at $1 50. "The Frog that Went a Wooing"-a handsome thing, with a humorous design-and many other kindred novelties.

In inexpensive Valentines we have small bannerets in octagon, oval and oblong shapes, gilt edge and wide silk fringe, silk cord to suspend them by, 5 cents each.

For the little folks who wish to send Valentines, we show the old style, Stamped Lace Valentines, at two for 1 cent, 1 cent, 2 cents up to 10 cents.

HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES

"SARSFIELD" REMEDIES CO.

SARSFIELD'S REMEDY for the Blood and Constipation!
SARSFIELD'S REMEDY for Diphtheria and Pneumonia!
SARSFIELD'S CHRONIC ULCER SALVE!

The people of the Interior will remember that a few years ago, J. P. SARSFIELD, of Sacramento, then a hard-working dairyman, became fortunately possessed of certain valuable remedial agents. With these he effected in Sacramento and Central California remarkable cures, and drew the approving attention of many physicians. So wide-spread became the fame of his remedies, that business men were convinced of their entire reliability, and of the truth of the marvels they accomplished. The result has been the formation of a Company to aid him in putting these needs for suffering humanity broadly upon sale. The Company has its Depot at No. 115 EDDY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, but the medicines can be had of all reputable druggists.

The making of Certificates has related so largely to fraud, that the public has naturally grown suspicious of them. But those here referred to are by such prominent citizens, of such irreproachable character, and the cures are so well known, and the witnesses so easy to reach, that we make the references with-

MRS. H. C. GOODRIDGE, 28 Hawthorne street, nine years in bed with Chronic Ulcers and unutterable pain, and abandoned by physicians Permanently cured in less than four weeks. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Robberies and Thefts. Geo. H. Eversalt, a hunter, residing near Roseville, drove to the city last Friday, and that night attended the performance at the Elite Theater. It was not over until the early morning hours, and, having been iming tolerably freely, he probably did not hasten to his room. In consequence, some one knocked him down on K street, just where he does not know, and robbed him of $10 or more. Later that morning, while he was on his way home, he hitched his team at Twelfth and J streets, and went $4,000.

knocked him down and relieved him of a silver watch and two or three dollars in Saturday evening Dr. W. A. Briggs dis-saturday evening Dr. W. A. Briggs dis-covered that his satchel, containing sur-gical instruments, had disappeared from his buggy, which was standing in front of his office. It may have fallen out while he was driving, but it is more than probable that it was stolen.

Mrs. Mary Ketchum, proprietress of a lodging-house on the northwest corner of Third and K streets, reported to the police Saturday evening that during her absence from home in the afternoon some one stole $128 from a dish closet in her kitchen, where she kept it concealed.

Among the immigrant passengers from the East yesterday morning were two young men from Denver, en route to Los Angeles. As they had to lay over here until 3 P. M. for their train, they concluded to take a walk about the city. During their stroll they came across some parties who pre-tended to know some of their Denver friends, and in course of time "steered" them against a bunko game, at which one of them lost a watch worth about $100, and the other money to a similar amount. When they returned to the depot to take their train Deputy Sheriff Lee learned of their adventure, and introduced them to officer Yager, who went around with them in the hope of finding the men who operated the game, but was unsuccessful.

Target Practice. The following scores were made by members of Company G, at the 200-yard and J. A. Klein, of Company G, resulted as follows:

Police Court.

In the Police Court Saturday the case of J. V. Pettit, for threats against the life of his wife, made three or four weeks ago, was dismissed, as it was belived he was not n his right mind at that time H. G. Havs was examined on a charge of perjury, and acquitted, the evidence being insufficient.....Tom Connors pleaded guilty vagrancy, believing that a jail was better and more comfortable than the street during the winter, and the Court sentenced him to forty days in the county jail...... ohn Doe, a drunk, forfeited his deposit ...Hugh Battlefield, who disturbed the peace by indulging in a fight Thursday evening, was fined $5......Harry Robinson, who was charged with assisting Bertha Abbott in the larceny of $40 from Gus Lindley, was tried by jury and decided to be guilty. He and Bertha will receive their sentence this morning.

Sons of St. George.—The male English residents of this city have been working for the last month to organize a lodge of this exclusively English Society, and their efforts clusively English Society, and their efforts the meeting held vesterday it was resolved to apply for a charter, which will cost $32, for a lodge to be named "Benbow Lodge, Sons of St. George," in memory of the ous English Admiral of that name. The charter-fee was fixed at $4, half to be paid on signing the roll, and the other half on institution as a lodge. Committees were appointed by the Chair to secure a hall, and also to obtain the services of an examining physician. It is expected that the lodge will be instituted in about a month from now, as it will take that time for the application for charter to go to Philwhere the Grand Secretary is

A fine gymnastic ex-hibition by the Turners and pupils, and a tion, both talented and attractive—notably concert and ball, will constitute the even-ing's entertainment. Professor Gerichten has mode very many friends during his brief residence in the city, the members of the Turn-Verein have been especially pleased with him, and all will unite in making this benefit a substantial testimonial of friendship and good feeling. A JURY SECURED .- In Department Two of the Superior Court the eight men necessary to complete the jury in the case of than 'Zitka.' The People vs. McWhorter were obtained Saturday, and the Court then adjourned un-til this morning at 10 o'clock, When the taking of testimony will commence. The jury is composed of the following citizens: E. J. Clark, W. J. Renfro, J. Carmondy, S. Macey, A. Johnson, William Burch, H. D. Millard, A. J. Stephens, E. T. Aitken, T. M. Tracey, A. Burns, M. A. Sparks.

PLENTY OF WORK IN PROSPECT .- As yet the men at the railroad works have not entered upon the construction of the locomotives and cars recently ordered, but the material is being got out, and the work will probably be soon in progress. The indications are certainly very cheering for the employes, as, in addition to the repairing, there are to be built 37 locomotives, 200 fruit cars, 100 flat cars, 100 coal cars and 25 were considered good, the sales aggregating between $19,000 and $20,000. Norfolk, the celebrated stallion, was withdrawn from the sale, with the consent of those in attendance. The horse, although 36 years of age, is in fine form—as handsome as he was twenty years ago, when he was king of the running turf at all distances. In asking the privilege to withdraw this magnificent animal, Mr. Winters made a short address, full of feeling. This animal had made him his fortune; they had been partners for nearly a quarter of a century, and if allowed to withdraw him from the sale; his owner said, "as long as I have a half dollar left the old horse shall have half of dollar left the old horse shall have half of it for feed. Several of the choicest mares, the names of which appeared upon the catalogue, were not offered for sale, to the surprise and chagrin of some who had come long distances to purchase them. No apology was offered for their not being put up, and many went away grumbling and dissatis-fied. Below is given a list of those sold, the names of the purchasers and the prices

APROPOS OF FEBRUARY 14th.

An Eastern manufacturer has just sent us our stock of Valentines.

Those who make selections now will get the benefit of the fullest assortments and all the choicest designs.

A conspicuous feature of this season's Valentines is an almost entire absence of the old style embossed chromo pictures.

Instead are heavy rough-finished and rough-edged papers, with hand lettering in gilt; also, landscapes and floral designs sketched in water colors.

A majority of the Valentines are mounted as easels, plaques or banners, and can be used as home decorations, thus eventually serving a useful as well as a sentimental end.

In the fine novelties are half-moon shapes, with tropical scenes, 85 cents to $1 25. "Rome's Ladder," an original conceit, in silk and plush, at $1 50. "The Frog that Went a 'Wooing"-a handsome thing, with a humorous design-and many other kindred novelties.

In inexpensive Valentines we have small bannerets in octagon, oval and oblong shapes, gilt edge and wide silk fringe, silk cord to suspend them by, 5 cents each.

For the little folks who wish to send Valentines, we show the old style, Stamped Lace Valentines, at two for 1 cent, 1 cent, 2 cents up to 10 cents.

SARSFIELD'S CHRONIC ULCER SALVE! The people of the Interior will remember that a few years ago I P SARSFIELD, of Sacramento, then a hard-working dairyman, became fortunately possessed of certain valuable remedial agents. With these he effected in Sacramento and Central California remarkable cures, and drew the approving attention of many physicians. So wide-spread became the fame of his remedies, that business men were convinced of their entire reliability, and of the truth of the marvels they accomplished. The result has been the formation of a Company to aid him in putting these needs for suffering humanity broadly upon sale. The Company has its Depot at No. 115 EDDY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, but the medicines can be had of all reputable druggists.

The making of Certificates has related so largely to fraud, that the public has naturally grown suspicious of them.
